CO-OPERATION AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITY AND ISRAEL

Biennial Report on the Operation of the Agreement

Communication from the Parties

The report below presents the information received from the Permanent Delegation of the European Commission, dated 21 March 2000. It is organized in accordance to the Standard Format for Information on Regional Trade Agreements (WT/REG/W/6).

I. BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON THE AGREEMENT

1. Membership and Dates of Signature, Ratification and Entry into Force

The first trade agreement between the European Community and Israel was concluded in 1964. Subsequent agreements were agreed in 1970 and 1975.

An Euro-Mediterranean Agreement Establishing an Association between the European Communities and their Member States of one part and the State of Israel of the other part (hereinafter the Association Agreement) was signed on 20 November 1995. Pending conclusion of the ratification procedures for the Euro-Mediterranean Agreement and its entry into force, the European Community and Israel concluded an Interim Agreement on trade and trade related matters. This Interim Agreement was signed on 18 December 1995 and entered into force on 1 January 1996.

4. Trade Data

Statistical data on the evolution of trade between the European Communities and Israel is presented in the Annex.

II. TRADE PROVISIONS

1. Import Restrictions & 2. Export Restrictions

Under the provisions of the 1975 agreement, trade in all non-agricultural goods has been duty-free since 1 January 1989. The EC for its part had abolished tariffs and quotas on imports of all industrial products by July 1977, in addition to the tariff reductions granted on most of Israel's agricultural exports. The Interim Agreement strengthens and widens the relations between the Community and its Member States and Israel established by the 1975 Co-operation Agreement.

The Interim Agreement reinforces the free trade area between the parties already established under the 1975 Co-operation Agreement. Its main features in this regard are:

- the Agreement confirms that all trade in industrial products between the parties is duty- and quota-free;<sup>1</sup>
- the Parties agree to extend additional tariff concessions to trade in agricultural products from 1 January 1996. Furthermore, the European Community and Israel agree to progressively establish a greater liberalisation of their trade in agricultural products. Measures in accordance with this objective should be applied from 1 January 2001;
- the Parties also agree to examine the possibility of granting mutual concessions on trade in fisheries products at the latest three years after entry into force of the Euro-Mediterranean Agreement.

3. Rules of Origin

The provisions of the Interim Agreement the on rules of origin include the possibility of bilateral cumulation.

7. Subsidies and State-aid

The Interim Agreement includes provisions on competition and establishes a transparency mechanism for the exchange of information on State-aids (annual reporting on the total amount and distribution of aid given). Information on specific individual cases can also be requested.

IV. OTHER

Property rights

The Agreement confirms that both parties will grant and ensure adequate and effective protection of intellectual, industrial and commercial property rights in accordance with the highest international standards including effective means of enforcing such rights. In this context, it is foreseen that Israel shall accede to those relevant multilateral conventions to which it is not already party.

Public procurement

Separately from the Interim Agreement, the European Community and Israel have concluded two agreements on public procurement which entered into force in August 1997. The first of these relates to procurement by telecommunications operators and the second to government procurement more broadly.

The Agreement on telecommunications procurement provides for a mutual opening of procurement by telecommunications operators through granting an exchange of national treatment. In Israel the provisions of Chapter 2 of the regulations of the Mandatory Tenders Law will not be applied to bids comprising products of EC origin. In the EU, the provisions of Article 36 of the Utilities Directive (93/38 EEC) will not be applied against tenders comprising products of Israeli origin.
